

QUICK TAKE ON DATA SECURITY ACTIVITY

Sample Phishing Attack

Identify as many warning signs that the below e-mail is actually a phishing attack, rather than a legitimate message.

From: Bank of America Smallbusiness [<mailto:dorholdptyltd@telkomsa.net>]
Sent: Thursday, December 13, 2018 12:47 PM
To: Name <name@co.spruce.mn.us>
Subject: ACH Batch

Dear ,

You scheduled a payment of $32,546.72 for your account ending in Regular Business Checking-8877.

https://secmail.bankofamerica.com/formpostdir/securereader?id=jngK-UreyCUe2TZbKUhK_jOCKrxCXn-ErB&brand=31923

This is a secure message from Bank of America.

Sample Phishing Attack Answer Key

Seven warning signs point to this message being a phishing scam.

1. Sender name and e-mail address do not match, nor does the domain name

From: Bank of America Smallbusiness [<mailto:dorholdptyltd@telkomsa.net>]
Sent: Thursday, December 13, 2018 12:47 PM
To: Name <name@co.spruce.mn.us>
Subject: ACH Batch

2. Generic subject line

Dear ,

3. Not sent to a specific person

4. Too good to be true

You scheduled a payment of $32,546.72 for your account ending in Regular Business Checking-8877.

https://secmail.bankofamerica.com/formpostdir/secureread/UreyCUe/1Z6KUhK_jOCKrxCXn-ErB&brand=31923

6. "Secure mail" not spelled out

http://pclite.cl/lpwfh-bklsqf31o9czzc_nvchgyhaf-hrp/
Click or tap to follow link.

5. Hovering over link reveals it takes you to a different location.

This is a secure message from Bank of America.

7. Vague sender